

Backend Architecture

Frontend Architecture

Resources are exposed via APIs exposed as REST Level 3 Resources:

Users interact with index.html via forms and buttons that call the controllers defined in app.js. These controllers then call the back end services for REST services for data interaction/retrieval.

